

IC3 GS6 Level 2

Experts

1. Natasha Nelson

LearnKey Junior Instructor

Natasha Nelson is a junior instructor at LearnKey, writing and filming certification-based courses. Her passion for certification-based learning came while attending Davis Applied Technology College where she got her first look at certification-based courses. She completed the Administrative Professional and Business Technology programs there. She continued her education at LDS Business college where she earned her associate degree in Applied Business Technology. She spent two years teaching music and in the computer lab at a local elementary school, in addition to assisting in the business lab at Davis Applied Technology College, specifically with the Microsoft Office courses, before starting her career with LearnKey.
